Jazz, Most Successful Dressage Sire on the 2008 WBFSH Ranking

November 13, 2008

The Dutch warmblood stallion Jazz (by Cocktail x Ulft) has for the first time taken the leading position as the most successful sire of dressage horses on the WBFSH Ranking.

The newly released WBFSH sire ranking reveals that Donnerhall is no longer the leading sire. The liver chestnut Jazz has climbed the ranking from a third place in 2007 to a clear leader's position this year with 12,397 points. Donnerhall, which died in 2001, takes second place with 10,294 point followed by Weltmeyer (8,027), Rubinstein (5,146) and Ferro (4,897).

New in the top ranking is the Rubinstein son Rohdiamant at 7th place and also Trakehner Gribaldi on 9th place is new in the top ten.
